HOUSE VOTES TO ADJOURN ON JUNE FIFTH

CONGRESS NEARING
END OF EXPENSIVE
WEEK; COST ABOUT
3,000,000,000

Republican-Controlled Body Has Been Lavish in its Expenditures.

MUCH MORE MONEY TO BE APPROPRIATED

Capper Says Uncle Sam Should
be Doing Business in Wife's Name.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The House this afternoon voted to adjourn on June 5.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Congress
today is nearing the end of a $3,000-000,000 week.

Annual appropriations for the fiscal year of 1921 will be completed
before the end of the week in congress and will total close to $3,000-000,000.

These regular appropriations will not begin to cover expenditures for the year which will be asked for in deficiency and special appropriation bills which will come to the next congress.

The latest estimate of expenditures
and receipts for the fiscal year 1921,
made by Secretary of the Treasury Houston, show estimated receipts of $5,820,350,000; estimated expenditures of $3,973,000,000. This estimate is questioned seriously by members of congress, who predict that the receipts are going to be smaller than the amount named and that the final expenditures for the year will be much larger and that there will be deficit
which will run into the millions.

A railroad deficiency bill of $300-000,000, which cannot be called a regular appropriation bill, has been passed and there are numerous other bills before congress for appropriations which may run the total up considerably before the end of the week.
Senator Capper, of Kansas, pointed out today that total expenditures from 1789 to 1917, 128 years, were $40-000,000, as compared with total appropriations from 1917 to 1920, three years, of $30,000,000,000.

"We are running the most expensive government on earth," Senator Capper said, "in the most expensive manner. If it wasn't that Uncle Sam has always paid his bills, he would be doing business in his wife's name
right now."

HOUSE OPPOSES MANDATE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The house
tomorrow will report out a resolution denying the President authority
to accept a mandate for Armenia.
Chairman Porter announced today.
The senate will vote on a similar resolution late today.

CONFEREES AGREE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senate and house conferees today agreed on the sundry appropriations bill carrying $428,000,000. The senate amendment granting the treasury department $1,500,000 for the guarding of liquors in warehouses was reduced to $1,000,000. The item providing for the extension of authority for loans
to railroads from 5 to 15 years, placed in the bill by the senate, remains.

Only 8 'Guests' At County Jail

Sheriff May now has only eight
"guests" at the Morgan county jail,
the monthly report to the state department showed today. During the month of May, 38 prisoners were in the jail. The eight now there include two persons held on murder
charges, Charlie Namie and Will Montgomery.

The latter was sent back to the county jail from the state penitentiary where he was serving a sentence from the local court. His case was reversed by the supreme court.

FRIENDS INDIGNANT AT REMOVAL OF TIDWELL

Prof. Hays, of Falkville Elected as Successor When Office Educational Superintendent is Declared Vacant.

Friends of Prof. J. C. Tidwell, who was removed from office and Prof. E.
L. Hays, of Falkville, elected as his successor, today were openly charging that the county board of education at its meeting here on May 28
had taken snap action and had chosen
a new head of the county public school system without giving an opportunity for the filing of applications for the place. Much indignation was expressed by B. L. Malone,
of Albany, and Jeff Davis, of Trinity,
the two long term members of the board at the haste displayed in the removal of Prof. Tidwell.

As secretary of the board, the call for the meeting was sent out by Prof.
Tidwell at the request of John T.
Kyle, of Hartselle, chairman of the board. Following the opening of the meeting, in executive session, Chairman Kyle read a resolution, removing Prof. Tidwell from the superintendency of the county schools and declaring the office vacant. While the resolution stated the action was "for the best interests of the schools," no
charges were preferred against Prof.
Tidwell, and Mr. Davis declared his efforts to get into the resolution any specific charges against the superintendent were futile. On roll call, Mr.
Davis and Mr. Malone voted against the resolution, but R. L. Garner, of near Danville and Tom Crawford, of Ryan's Cross Roads community, voted in favor of it. Breaking the tie, the Chairman Kyle voted in favor of the resolution and it was declared adopted.

Moving with clock-like regularity,
the opponents of Prof. Tidwell immediately introduced the application of Prof. Hays, and again Mr. Malone and Mr. Davis sought to halt the proceedings by voting against the election of the Falkville man, on the grounds that, if the board wanted a new superintendent, opportunity
should be given for the filing of applications from more than one. Mr.
Crawford and Mr. Garner, however,
voted in favor of Prof. Hays's election and Chairman Kyle again broke the tie, electing Prof. Hays by a majority of one.

Preceding the vote, Prof. Tidwell was asked to retire. The retiring superintendent stated he thought he would be given a chance, at least, to be heard, but the resolutions of removal and the election of Mr. Hays were put through and the meeting adjourned. Prof. Tidwell stated, without an opportunity being given him to make a statement to the board.

Following the meeting, Prof. Tidwell requested members of the board to return and give him a hearing. Mr.
Garner agreed, but Messrs Kyle and Crawford did not return to the room,
it was stated.

Mr. Malone said today that he and Mr. Davis were the two old members of the board of education, having been elected for the long, or six years term. For this reason, he said, he felt that they were more familiar with educational conditions in the county and with Prof. Tidwell's record in office than the newer members and deserved more consideration than they received. Superintendent Tidwell, he stated, was elected by the board, of which Mr. Garner was at that time also a member, for a term of four years, expiring October 1, 1921.

"I feel," he stated, "that the action
of the board in declaring the office
vacant without giving opportunity for the filing of applications was not only a gross injustice of Prof. Tidwell, but also a blow to the efficiency of the educational system of the county.
Had the board considered it necessary
to choose a new superintendent, it certainly should waited until we had time to consider applications and to select the man we thought best qualified for the place."

WEATHER

Fair tonight; probably cloudy
and rain Wednesday.

POST NULLIFIED DEPORTATION LAW PALMER CHARGES WHILE ON STAND

Assistant Secretary of Labor Is Pictured as Friend of Radicals.

HUNDREDS ANARCHISTS ARE GIVEN RELEASE

Attorney General Says Bolshe-
vists Have Conducted Open Propaganda.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Attorney General Palmer today made defense
of his anti-red campaign and charged
assistant secretary of Labor Louis F.
Post with having obstructed it.

Appearing before the house rules
committee to answer charges made by Post that Palmer had made various "unconstitutional" acts in his red campaign, the Attorney General declared the charge to be "outrageously
false and designed only for the purpose of obstructing the administration of the law."

He charged that Secretary Post had virtually nullified the deportation law.

Palmer declared that "in hundreds of cases" Post had released proven anarchists or had modified the cases.
He cited about 12 as representative ones. He declared that Bolshevik propaganda is reaching hundreds of thousands of workmen in the country through the I. W. W. and kindred organizations.

Mr. Palmer expressed the view that the danger is not yet past, but he does not believe any revolution would ever succeed in this country.

He declared that the campaign
against it must continue and that it must be backed by a definite government policy. He declared "a vigorous enforcement of the law must be continued and the law must be strengthened."

The Attorney General declared that
after the collapse of the steel strike,
a number of the more radical men
who had been leaders in that strike
engaged in an endeavor to promote the railroad strike in April.

THREE COUNTIES SHOWING GROWTH

COLBERT LEADS IN FIRST FIG-URES WITH GROWTH
OF 20%.

Three Alabama counties, of which preliminary population figures were announced today at Washington,
show substantial growth. Colbert leads in the first figures with a growth of 29 per cent.

The figures follow:
Colbert county, Ala., 31,997; increase, 7,105, or 29 per cent.
Lawrence county, Ala., 24,307; increase, 2,323, or 10.6 per cent.
Fayette county, Ala., 18,365; increase, 2,177, or 13 per cent.

Campers to Leave Wednes'd'y Morning

W. G. Foster and J. G. Draper will leave Wednesday morning on a camping trip up Paint Rock river. They expect to be gone a week.

The campers will "rough it," carrying only sufficient food supplies and their blankets, depending on their rods and guns to supply the greater part of their chow.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENED MONDAY AS MOULTON AND ALBANY PLAY TIE

Ten Inning, No Decision Affair, Staged Yesterday on the Local Lot.

LOCALS OVERCOME
LEAD OF TWO RUNS
Moulton Rallies in Ninth and Knots the Count
Again.

Moulton and Albany opened the baseball season here Monday, battling through ten strenuous innings to a no-decision 6-6 tie, Umpire McCauley
calling the contest at the end of the tenth on account of darkness.

The contest gave the fairly large crowd of fans a run for their money,
being replete with sensational fielding features.

The locals got away to a one run
lead in the first when Steadman's scorching shot to left scored Thompson. The visitors evened the count in the second when Corum
smashed a triple to center and scored on Bragg's sacrifice fly to Johnson, who made a spectacular catch after a long run. Sittason made a great catch of a drive past second.

Moulton scored two more in the sixth, but Albany came from behind in the eighth and put over four, getting a lead of two. Moulton sea-sawed back in the ninth, putting over a couple of counters and knotting the count again. Neither team was able to score in the ninth and tenth.

Almon, for the visitors, hammered out a homer in the ninth when the ball soared over Well's head to the fence.

The "fresh meat" was guarded by many local Shriners who went to Birmingham to enjoy the festivities and to see that the sands are as hot as possible for their fellow citizens.

LEGIONNAIRES TO ENJOY A BANQUET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Members of the local American Legion post will enjoy the second of a series of banquets Wednesday night
at the Hilda hotel cafe at 7 o'clock.
New members of the post particularly were urged to be present by Post Commander Raymond R. Brown.

The banquet committee has arranged a very interesting affair, with an excellent menu. The ladies of the First Methodist church will serve the meal. An orchestra has been obtained to enliven the program. A 100 per cent attendance has been the slogan
of the committee, which is composed of S. H. Wilds, chairman, Joseph A.
Woods and Ralph White.

DIRECTORS MEET THIS AFTERNOON TO FORM REQUEST

Directors of the Limestone-Morgan Bridge Company will meet this afternoon at the company's office on Bank street to draw up the formal request to the government for the location of the highway bridge across the Tennessee river here.

Captain T. E. Grafton, who has been at Rome, Ga., for several days
in connection with the location there
of a big steel plant, returned to Albany-Decatur last night to aid in the bridge project.

SENATE DELAYS THE BONUS BILL

NO ACTION EXPECTED PRIOR TO THE NATIONAL CONVEN-TIONS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Adoption of the soldier's aid bill in the senate
before the close of congressional activities, June 5, was declared practically impossible by republican and democratic leaders of that body today.
The bill, as it passed the house,
contains revenue features objectionable to the republican majority of the finance committee. The committee has paid little attention to the question, feeling until very recently
it would not pass the house this session. To redraft the bill would take several weeks and members of the committee point to the fact that only five days remain before congressional activities give way to national conventions.

SUPREME COURT NOW IN SESSION

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States supreme court meets today to hand down decisions. There will be only one more decision day
before the summer adjournment is taken. Great interest in the decisions
by the court center about possible action on the contested prohibition amendment and the Volstead enforcement act.

The United States supreme court held unconstitutional that part of the 1919 income tax law taxing salaries of Federal judges. The salaries of Federal judges are not taxable as income, the court decided. The test case was brought by Judge Walter Evans, Federal judge of Kentucky.

GEORGIA CONTEST MOST DIFFICULT FACING G. O. P.; COLOR LINE UP

Negro Leader Heads Delegation

Leonard Wood.

CONVENTION OPENS
WEEK FROM TODAY

Senator Lodge Will Act as Temporary Chairman. Candidates Arrive.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 1.—The final week
of pre-convention skirmishing started today. One week from today Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, as temporary chairman, will call the republican national convention to order.

Gen. Wood himself was in command of his activities today. He took charge at a time when things admittedly were not running smoothly in the Wood camp. Senator Johnson will arrive in Chicago Thursday, according to latest advice to his supporters here. The most difficult of all the contests filed with the national committee was to be taken up today, that of Georgia, where the "black and tan"
and lily white differences are held to be irreconcilable. Seventeen seats are in dispute, with the Wood and Lowden interests involved. One faction is headed by Roscoe Pickett, a white man, who is a Wood supporter.
The other faction is headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, a well known negro politician, who is just as strong for Governor Lowden.

LAND COMPANY SURVEY IS BEGUN

ENGINEERS TO BE HERE FOR
THE NEXT MONTH. PROPERTY
RECENTLY TRANSFERRED

Raymond Jones and Lynn Jordan,
popular civil engineers of Huntsville,
have arrived here with a party of 15
men and are surveying the holdings
of the Decatur Land company, recently purchased by a syndicate composed of H. B. Beard, John Knight, R. E.
Spraggins and Shelby Fletcher, the latter two of Huntsville.

It will require a month more for
the surveyors to complete the work, it
the surveyors to complete the work, it
the Decatur Land company were purchased in the infancy days of Albany,
then New Decatur, and many of the city maps have been made from the original ones drawn by the company's engineers. During the existence of the land company, hundreds of building lots have been disposed of, but many acres of unimproved property
were taken over when the company
was purchased for a sum generally estimated at nearly $400,000, several months ago.

The survey now being made will come near being an entirely new survey of the entire city of Albany,
wherein most of the property of the company lies.

tion reaffirming allegiance to their

filiate with the American Federation of Labor was passed by the rural

here Monday.

Alderman Pinched; Had Wet Goods

TALLADEGA, June 1.—Following his arrest by Sheriff Cornett, W. E.
Headley, well known member of the city council of Sylacauga, was released upon $500 bond. Mr. Headley was charged with violating the prohibition law, after several quarts of whiskey
had been found in his suit case when he left the train at Sylacauga.

RAINBOW DIVISION PROGRAM PRETTY

SOUVENIR OF BIRMINGHAM RE-UNION EXPECTED TO NET
FIFTY THOUSAND

J. W. Weaver is here today selling advertising space in the program to be issued as a souvenir of the annual reunion of the Rainbow Division,
which will be held at Birmingham, July 12-14. The program is a handsome one. It is expected that the sales of space will net $50,000 for defraying the expenses of the reunion.
Mr. Weaver stated, and space, will be sold in six states.

Company E, local unit of the celebrated fighting force, will be mentioned in the historical sketch of the Division which the program will carry.

PROHIBITION OFFICERS GET MANY STILLS

FIFTEEN ARE DESTROYED DURING PAST WEEK, IS AN-NOUNCED

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, June 1.—Officers of the state law enforcement department had a busy time last week.

Raids were made in Covington, Geneva, Houston counties, resulting in the seizure of 15 stills and 20 gallons of whiskey. 300 gallons of mash also was destroyed. Seven arrests were made for illicit distilling. 1,000 gallons of beer was destroyed in Mobile county and three stills captured.

VERA CRUZ PLAGUE EPIDEMIC SPREADS

NUMBER OF NEW CASES RE-PORTED. PUBLIC PLACES
ARE ALL CLOSED

(International News Service)
VERA CRUZ, June 1.—The outbreak of bubonic plague in Vera Cruz is spreading rapidly. A number of new cases were reported today. All schools, theatres, churches and warehouses have been ordered closed.

Railroad traffic into and out of this city has been suspended. Vera Cruz is virtually isolated except for telephone and telegraph communication.
Coast towns are refusing to allow ships from this part to enter their harbors.

Lazaretto is being established on the Isle of Sacrifice, a mile off shore.
A government launch will make hourly trips between the mainland and island to convey victims and medical supplies. The municipal council has authorized two manufacturing firms
to construct great numbers of plain wooden coffins to be used by poverty stricken families. A fine of 500 pesos will be imposed upon doctors failing to report cases of the plague that come under their observation.

ALABAMA MUST HAVE BETTER LIBEL LAWS

The Alabama Press association, at its recent annual convention, appointed a committee to take action with the view of securing an amendment of the libel laws of the state, which are not only antiquated but dangerous. A news story chronicling the action of the press association, said:

"The decision was made after an address by E. W. Barrett in which he declared that the newspapers must have proper protection of their rights as public journals. He brought out the fact that a person who is opposed to a newspaper because of its activities in any matter may bring a suit in any county in Alabama in which the newspaper happens to have one subscriber. As an illustration, he showed that a small newspaper might have one subscriber in a county far removed from its place of publication but that a person might bring a suit for libel against the newspaper in that county."

Recent libel suits were cited to show how stringent are the libel laws and how difficult it is to prosecute a proper defense because of the fact that new conditions are needed. A Birmingham newspaper recently was sued in Jefferson county for libel, the claim being for $1,400,000. After it had been tried several days a mistrial was ordered by the judge because of evidence that one member of the jury had made remarks concerning the case prior to the beginning of the trial.

The suit was re-entered in Blount county, where different conditions existed. The newspaper was forced by the court to produce its subscription list in that county. The complainant summoned as witnesses every subscriber of the newspaper, therefore they could not be called for service on the jury. The result may be imagined.

It is evident that under existing laws, any person who for any reason desires to injure a newspaper or to enrich himself, can file suit for libel in any county where he has cause to believe that conditions are such that he can win the suit. As newspapers are compelled to express their opinions in regard to public matters, if they are to be of use or to fulfill their mission, they must necessarily make enemies as well as friends. Think of the fate of a prohibition journal if sued in a wet county, or of a wet journal if sued in a dry county! Worse still, what would happen to the liberty of the press if a bunch of anarchists should be allowed to pass upon the merits of an article defending genuine Americanism which appeared in some county where the Stars and Stripes were honored? It is easy to picture many situations where rank injustice could be done a fair-minded newspaper by a prejudiced jury. The libel laws should be so written that they will protect the public from malicious attacks and at the same time guarantee the press a reasonable freedom of speech.

Voice of the People

APOLOGY TO MOULTON

Albany-Decatur Daily:
Allow me, on behalf of the representative citizenship of Albany, to express through the Daily our regret at the unseemly conduct of certain small boys and others who witnessed the baseball game Monday. Some of the Moulton fans, prominent citizens of their community, were treated with rank discourtesy, so much so that I at one time was called on to enter a personal protest and to demand better order. We hope to have the Moulton baseball team and the Moulton fans with us again during the season, and promise them in advance to take precautions to see that they are not annoyed by acts of rascals. I feel that Moulton is due a public apology for the misconduct of a few individuals, and take this means of expressing to the Moulton fans and the Moulton players the regret of all true Albansians that such unfortunate incidents should have occurred.

Falkville News

FALKVILLE, June 1. — Special — The many friends of Prof. E. L. Hays are congratulating him today upon his appointment as county superintendent of education. Prof. Hays has spent his life in teaching in this and other states, and was principal of the Falkville Normal School last school year.

Prof. Luther Gibson, a former teacher in the school at this place, now principal of one of the state high schools, was a visitor here today. Prof. Gibson was on his way home after a visit to the home of his boyhood near Massey. He delivered an address at the memorial services held at the Herring Grave yard yesterday.

Prof. Sim Gibson was here a short time today.

An election on the three mill school tax has been called by the probate judge for this consolidated school district to be held July 3. It is thought that the measure will carry by a large majority.

Several citizens of the town attended the memorial services held at the Herring grave yard Sunday evening.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. John Curwile, Rev. Hamby, a former pastor here occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church at the evening service Sunday.

Mrs. Francis King, one of the oldest ladies in the county is quite sick at her home near Cedar Plains. Mrs. King up to a year ago, kept well posted on matters of public interest, and took a great interest in national affairs. She is nearing 87 years of age and her mind is still active, but she can't read and keep posted as in the past.

A flock of Ford's about 15 in number, passed through here today being driven to points in the state.

Farming is progressing rapidly with the pretty days and much corn is being planted this week. Cotton is being chopped out and is looking fine. Reports continue to trickle in from different sections of the county about the boll weevil. One gentleman said he found quite a lot a few days ago on his potato vines. Real boll weevils. Many are apprehensive that his appearing in numbers now will spell disaster for the cotton. A large acreage of cotton is being planted.

The Tom Simpson residence on East Church street was sold a few days ago to H. C. Tenge. This makes about a half dozen residences that have changed hands here within the last few days.

Dr. J. R. Elliott left Sunday for Tuscaloosa. He will move his family here at once.

Rather Embarrassing

We had just moved into a new house. I was dressing when the bell rang, and mother went to the door. Sure enough it was the young man I was trying to avoid. But instead of saying I was not at home, mother said: "Oh, let me show you our new house." Everything was lovely until approaching the closet, where I was caught down on my knees, half-dressed, mother said: "This is where we keep all our old junk and rubbish," and opened the door.

I shall never forget how embarrassed I was. —Exchange.

To Break Him of the Habit.
"John," said his husband's wife, "I don't believe you have smoked one of those lovely cigars I gave you at Christmas."

"No, my dear, I haven't," replied his wife's husband. "As a matter of fact, I intend to keep them until our little Wally grows up and wants to learn to smoke."

MERELY HER 'INDIAN SUMMER'

Elderly Lady Rejects With Scorn the Idea That She Is in the Autumn of Life.

She is a little old grandmother—exactly seventy-four years old, and quite a busy little creature she is, knitting stockings for this niece, a sweater for this grandson and tending lace for her newest great-grandchild. Her daughter with whom she lives, the other day remonstrated with her for working so hard. "You don't have to work so hard now, mother," she said. "You've worked all through your summer of life and now at autumn you surely should have a rest."

"I'm not having an actual autumn of rest and decay," the old woman indignantly protested. "My life is too beautiful and too fruitful to label it that way. It's an Indian summer. When I was younger I used to watch old people having autumns when they fretted everybody and were miserable themselves. It worried me because I knew that some day I would be old, and I didn't want to make anyone, not even myself, miserable. And one autumn I enjoyed Indian summer so much that I decided to have an Indian summer in my life. And," half indignantly, "I don't intend to have you or any other person throwing frost on it to ruin it, either." —Indianapolis News.

FOUND THAT NEATNESS PAYS

Indianapolis Youths Possibly Only Needed Good Example, Though the Pennies May Have Helped.

Somebody invented an old saw to the effect that "bad news travels fast." In the vicinity of the Weldy Motors company's plant good news did the same thing.

One day a dirty-faced urchin of the neighborhood asked Bill Umphrey of the Weldy company for a penny.

"Wash your face and hands and I'll come through," Billy told the kid.

When Mr. Umphrey emerged from his office at noon the youngster was there, his face and hands glowing like a 100-candle power lamp. He got the penny.

An hour later, when Mr. Umphrey returned, there was a line up as long as that for the "Rollies." A regiment of clean hands was outstretched for coins of the realm. The generous Billy came through again.

He started something. Now the kids have begun work on George Weldy and Truman Rapp. The result is that Irish Hill youthful countenances and hands beam like a circus billboard. —Indianapolis News.

Ibanez's Contribution to Poe Memorial

When Senor Blasco Ibanez said that the Bronx should erect a memorial to Edgar Allan Poe—he means business—he acted like a poet. Though Poe pried into a number of nooks and crannies of European literature, he seems never to have interested himself in Spain or Spanish. His "Oval Portrait" is located in "one of those piles of commingled gloom and grandeur" which have so long been associated with Spanish architecture, and that is about the extent of his debt to the land of our guest. But poets do not look for reasons; they are content with opportunities. Seeing that we had no adequate Poe memorial, he seized upon the chance to make a good suggestion. Possibly, also, Poe's "Four Bears in One" prompted generous thoughts in the author of "The Four Horsemen." —New York Evening Post.

A Disturber

It was a scrubby little room, in a scrubby little part of a scrubby little city's scrubbers, and the London traveler didn't approve at all.

When he went to wash he found that there was no water for the basin, no soap to wash with, and no towel to dry himself with.

Five minutes interim bringing no answer, he rang again and then again, and again, until his arm ached. At the end of 20 minutes a waiter of forbidding aspect opened the door.

"Did you ring?" he inquired in a bass, rambling voice.

"Of course I did!" snapped the London visitor.

"Well," said the waiter as he withdrew, "don't do it again! You'll wake the missis!" —London Tit-Bits.

Lightheaded Customer

A Jeffersonville merchant has recently placed an automatic weighing machine in front of his store. A few days ago a citizen was observed standing on the machine and closely scrutinizing the dial. His hat was in his hand, although the thermometer marked a low temperature, and a passerby asked him why he had his hat off. "I want to see what I weigh without my outdoor garments," said the citizen blandly. His interlocutor walked away, muttering: "He wouldn't weigh much less if he took his head off as well." —Indianapolis News.

Tomato Juice for Babies

Dr. Alfred P. Hess of New York says that canned tomatoes are good for babies. Orange juice is commonly given to them; for they need something of this sort to prevent such diseases as scurvy, and Dr. Hess has found that canned tomatoes serve the same purpose. He told the State Medical society that he gives about an ounce a day to infants that have passed their first month, especially to those whose mothers are not nursing them.

ORAL HYGIENE
KEY TO HEALTH

Dental Authorities Urge Sterilization of Mouth as Vital Part of Daily Toilet; Prevents Decay of Teeth; Stops Infection of Gums or Pyorrhea, and Infection of Tonsils and Throat.

Dental Science has proven that the mouth is a veritable incubator or breeding place for germs and that about ninety-five per cent of all mouth examinations are infected.

This unhappy picture is the common fate of those who neglect the laws of oral hygiene. It may be easily avoided by prompt repair of the teeth by your dentist followed by daily sterilization of the mouth, teeth and throat to prevent re-infection. For this purpose Dental Science has perfected a most delightful and effective sterilizing solution for the toilet, called Steroline. It absolutely sterilizes the mouth, teeth and throat, penetrating even the minute crevices between the teeth which cannot be reached in any other way.

Used as a mouth-wash and gargle, night and morning, Steroline quickly becomes a most delightful and indispensable part of the daily toilet. It imparts a delightful sensation of cleanliness, freshness and comfort to the mouth and throat, purifying and sweetening the breath even of tobacco, preventing pyorrhea or Riggs Disease, tonsillitis, throat trouble and many other contagions that might otherwise gain entrance to the system through the mouth.

Telephone your druggist now for a bottle of Steroline and begin today to enjoy its delights and protection. A large bottle, enough for the entire family, may be had to half a dollar. —Advertisement.

Trunk Lines in the Air.

Long distance air transportation will soon be a commonplace. The successful trip from London to Australia recently completed has encouraged Great Britain to lay out a number of great air routes, connecting England by great trunk lines with its possessions. The service will be maintained at first by airmails and later doubtless by airplanes. The first of these trunk lines will connect London with Canada by way of Newfoundland. Another line will operate between London and Egypt and will be extended to South Africa. The air lines will be backed by large government subsidies. —Boys' Life.

Trained Nurses Popular.

That trained nurses are being employed in increasing numbers shows that employers generally are recognizing their services. Previous to 1919, only 66 industrial firms employed trained nurses. Today more than 871 industries have nursing services. The industrial nurse has proved to be a good investment. She is a teacher of hygiene, and health education means prevention of accidents, which in years gone by have cost industry many thousands of dollars.

The dried fertilizer material equals about 20 per cent of the total weight of the shark, and contains 18.3 per cent of nitrogen. The stomach may be utilized for leather.

We Must Guard Our Girls

On the threshold of womanhood comes the crisis which means health or invalidism. Three generations ago an old southern doctor wrote a prescription for the ills of women, which has become known to fame as "Stella Vitae." It has been the right thing at the right time for thousands of young girls, down to the present day. Try it for YOUR daughter. Money refunded if FIRST BOTTLE does not benefit. At your drug store.

Saved An Operation

MR. W. P. NELSON, a merchant of Hixson, Tenn., says: "That the daughter of one of his neighbors, Mr. James Roberts, was in such a condition with female trouble that an operation was advised, and the young lady was sent to Chattanooga for its performance. She dreaded the operation, and STELLA VITAE having been recommended, decided to try that first. She has taken six bottles and is happily on the road to recovery. She is able to do her usual work and is in better health than for years before, but continues to use it. She writes: 'STELLA VITAE will do all you claim.' Her father says 'She began to improve at once, after taking STELLA VITAE.'"

HOW YOUNG PRINCE OF WALES FITS HIMSELF FOR RULERSHIP

Bishop Welldon Tells of Difficult Task of Heir to Throne of Great Britain; Speaks of Significance of Prince's Motto, "I Serve!"

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 1.—"No Prince of Wales, I suppose, has ever entered upon the task of preparing himself for the exalted office which will one day in the course of nature be his at a time more difficult or critical than the young Prince of Wales today," writes Bishop Welldon in the London Globe. "For since the outbreak of the great war the whole world has been rocking in the throes of revolution."

"The ancient monarchies of Europe, Hohenzollern, Hapsburg, Romanoff, have vanished like dreams of the night. Everywhere, or nearly everywhere, the world has become Republican. It is scarcely too much to say that two stable thrones alone now survive—the thrones of Great Britain and Japan."

"Even a Prince then, though he be the heir to the throne, must be a democrat in Great Britain today. He must avoid all such language as the ex-Kaiser was wont to use about monarchy. The divine right of kings, as Sir Robert Filmer expounded it, is now a mere anachronism. The King is the chief servant of his people. He reigns for their good and with their good will."

"It would, perhaps, be well to banish the phraseology of adulation from court today. The King and the Prince of Wales would probably be the first to wish that everybody who addresses them should address them in that real and genuine language which comes from the heart."

"It has been the happy fortune of the Prince of Wales that he has lived from childhood in a virtuous English home. He has been brought up in simple habits of life. He has learned the significance of his motto, 'Ich Dien—'I serve.' He has seen from the example of his father and mother how much royalty may achieve in a democratic age for the welfare of the people."

"The Prince has not indeed passed through an English public school. A little while ago, when he paid a visit to Eton, he expressed the good-humored regret that he could not like one of his brothers call himself an old Etonian. Perhaps the heir to the throne could hardly be expected to brag for another boy who would one day be his subject."

"But he has been an undergraduate in the University of Oxford. He has fully entered into the interests, athletic, racial and intellectual of that ancient and famous society. He knows how the well-born youths of England spend the eager impressionable years of their lives, for he has lived among them. He has become in the best sense an English sportsman, an English gentleman."

"Yet apart from his experience, which his grandfather and his uncle, the late Duke of Clarence, enjoyed before him, he has fought as a soldier for his country in the great war. The story which he told on his return from Canada of the humble Canadian woman who remarked to him that her husband had met him at the front is an evidence of the relation which has existed between the Prince and the army."

"All the soldiers who saw him, and many who had never seen him, liked him for his bravery, his sincerity, his freedom from 'side,' his eager participation in all the aspects of military life. It is difficult to think of any event which could so deeply have endeared the Prince to the nation and the Empire as the fact of his having so fully shared the perils of the front."

"There remains one more element in the education of the Prince, and this, too, has not been forgotten. He will reign one day, if God spares his life, not only over Great Britain, but over the British Empire. The British Empire is the greatest human institution in the world. Never has it seemed so powerful and so admirable in the eyes of mankind as it seems today."

Issue Is Made of Amritsar Massacre

British Labor Party Organ Discusses English Rule in India and Gen. Dyer's Action

(By EARL C. REEVES)
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 1.—The Amritsar massacre, in which 500 were killed, and the explanation of General Dyer that he ordered the troops to fire "to save the Indian Empire" have been made an issue of sharp attack by the Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party.

General Dyer's statement, "I shot to save the British Raj," is quoted by the Herald in an editorial, which continues:

"Perhaps it is true. Perhaps British rule in India is so odious to the natives that the bloodiest frightfulness is needed to maintain it. General Dyer (with the kindly blue eyes) has said so. But if it is true, let us have done with hypocrisy. Let us abandon the cant that we are trustees for the Indian people. Let us make the outrages we now attempt to hide our loudest boast."

"For our part we cannot believe that even this monstrous line of defense, worst than the charge it is intended to rebut, is in fact true."

"Let the thing be put to a test. Let us for a time—for the first time—attempt to deal with India as a free and responsible partner, with trust in substitution for tanks, autonomy for artillery."

"Then, if we fail, if our rule is not wanted, the choice will be clear; it will be General Dyer's terrorism or the abandonment of a lucrative field for the energies, in business and administration, of our younger sons. Our belief in the humanity of our race is not so exhausted that we have any doubt as to its choice."

In its news columns the Herald quotes Miss Helena Normanton, editor of "India," the organ of the Indian National Congress.

"General Dyer defends himself by saying there was rebellion," Miss Normanton said. "All responsible Indians maintain that there was no rebellion, and even Colonel O'Brien, an assistant to Sir Michael O'Dwyer, then Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, admitted that there was no evidence to support the rebellion theory."

"The whole of India is very anxious that the British authorities should not conclude that by merely making a scapegoat of General Dyer they can reconcile India. The real responsibility rests upon those who placed him in power and condoned his deeds so long, especially Sir Michael O'Dwyer, and, above all, on the Viceroy, Lord Chelmsford."

"Nothing would placate India more than the removal of the Viceroy."

"India takes her suffering in a very constitutional way and ascribes them to their true source—Lord Chelmsford—who at the time of this organized savagery gave carte blanche to his subordinates, and therefore must be held responsible."

STUCK IN THEIR MEMORIES

American Slang Phrases That Became Popular Among the Filipinos and Frenchmen.

"All right" was generally the first English phrase the French picked up from American troops. "All right" answers probably a quarter of the questions that an American is called upon to reply to. In the great mass of jargon in a strange tongue, it stood out on account of constant repetition. The poilus were wont to practice it over their cognac and vin blanc glasses, in place of their own "tres bien," and yell it out to the Yankees on the side of the cafe."

As the French mastered "all right," so the Filipinos took up "gangway" during the American occupation of the Philippine Islands 20 years ago. Pursuing rough-house tactics that were not permitted during the last war in France, the American troopers would go down the streets of the island towns, pushing the natives into the gutter and yelling "gangway!" It became so that whenever a native heard "gangway" half a mile off, he immediately began to make way for the gang.

During the insurrection, at the height of one of the rebels' "offensives," the American troops were astonished to see a great swarm of Aguinaldo's soldiers come rushing over the top, waving holos and spears and yelling "Gangway! Gangway!"

The Filipinos thought "gangway" was a vile American curse word. They later decided that Col. Fred Funston and his Twentieth Kansas doughboys didn't care even if they were sworn at.—Ulrich Duffy in Home Sector.

Odd Fellows' Rapid Growth

In December, 1919, Solomon Chambers and his son, who were English mechanics from the south of London, organized the first lodge of Odd Fellows in New York city. It was called the Shakespeare Lodge, No. 1, and at the initial meeting had only five members. Three years later six lodges had been established in New York city.

Collier's Best Sheep Dogs

The department of agriculture says that the Scotch collies are the favorite sheep dogs of America. Their tireless watching even at night, their barking at the approach of any intruder, and their instinct for keeping the flock together are of great value. The stray dog is one of the sheep's worst enemies.

What Is a Person to Person Long Distance Call?

ON person to person calls the person originating the call specifies a particular person to be reached. When a person to person call is made, the company not only must do everything that it does in a station to station call to establish a communication, but must do it at a time when the particular person called will be available, and will, as a matter of fact, talk. Obviously, the company has no control over the whereabouts of persons called, and there is involved an additional expense and circuit use, and uncertainty, caused by conditions over which the company has no control or influence. So that it is both logical and proper that the charge for a person to person call should be relatively more than the station to station call.

Orders for person to person calls are accepted only under the condition that a limited charge will be made when under certain conditions, it is impossible to establish communication between specified persons. This charge is classified as a "report charge."

By studying their needs, toll users can effect economies and make the service more valuable and convenient.

If there is anything about our rates and practices you do not understand, call the business office and we will be glad to explain the whole detail to you.

Profits Helped Build Our Business

Do you think it's right to save money?

Swift & Company's business has been built up partly by selling capital stock for cash and partly by thrifty saving, putting some of our earnings each year back into the business to increase facilities for production.

That is what most all of us seek to do—save part of our earnings for future usefulness.

It is the way American industries have been built up. It means the least drain on the financial resources of the country.

For the past twenty-four years Swift & Company has made an average profit from all sources of 11.3 per cent on investment (capital and surplus), and 2.3 cents on each dollar of sales—a fraction of a cent per pound. Out of this we have paid dividends and saved something to help us keep pace with a growing country.

THE RAINY DAY

(Longfellow)

The day is cold, and dark, and dreary;
It rains, and the wind is never weary;
The vine still clings to the moldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall,
And the day is dark and dreary.

My life is cold and dark and dreary;
It rains, and the wind is never weary;
My thoughts still cling to the moldering past,
But the hopes of youth fall thick in the blast,
And the days are dark and dreary.

Be still, sad heart! and cease repining;
Behind the clouds is the sun still shining;
Thy fate is the common fate of all,
Into each life some rain must fall,
Some days must be dark and dreary.

My life is cold and dark and dreary;
It rains, and the wind is never weary;
My thoughts still cling to the moldering past,
But the hopes of youth fall thick in the blast,
And the days are dark and dreary.

LONG A FAMOUS PLAYHOUSE

Walnut Street Theater, in Philadelphia, to Be Torn Down, Dates From the Year 1809.

The oldest playhouse in America, which is to be replaced in part at least by a modern structure, is the Walnut street theater in Philadelphia, opened in 1809. It has never missed a season in these 111 years.

Edwin Forrest made his first regular appearance here at the age of fourteen, getting his first start through the influential backing of Col. John Swift, at one time mayor of Philadelphia. The play in which Forrest appeared was "Douglas," and in the cast were Wheatley, Mrs. Williams, Joe Jefferson's grandmother, and Warren and Wood, managers of the theater and of the stock company. Warren and Wood considered themselves very unfortunate in the cast of novices they had to deal with and were greatly surprised when Forrest acquitted himself so well that the public expressed a desire for the play's repetition.

The English tragedian, Edmund Kean, appeared at the Walnut in 1821. During the 16 nights of his engagement the receipts ran as high as $1,370, only once falling below $600. In those days this was considered a prodigious sum in theatrical circles.

Beaver Money.
John Jacob Astor introduced the beaver skin as a medium of exchange, and it was not until beaver hats were replaced by the modern felt hat made from rabbit fur that beaver money went out of fashion.

For about 100 years the beaver skin had its fixed value by which the cost of any other article was determined. It is said that the process of making hats from rabbit pelts actually saved beaver from extinction in North America.

Most of the beaver was trapped by Indians, and ambitious white men exerted their wits in separating the red man from his treasures.

If an Indian thought he needed furs to keep warm, he was given a drink of something that made him feel that he wouldn't need an overcoat, after all.—Detroit News.

Make a Beginning.

Many people prosper on ideas that come from without. In a measure these are common property. The really great ventures that make outstanding men are those born within a man and therefore peculiarly his property. When appreciated and acted upon they give him the inside chance that others will covet when they see him beginning to climb. Instead of sitting around moping the "up to you" to start something. Let your thinker sink deep down into your anatomy and mine the unused possibilities that are rising out for want of use. And rest assured unexpected possibilities will open up just as soon as you start something.—Exchange.

Missouri Weather.

The frequent rains recently have made us appreciate what an old lady from Arkansas said about us once after a visit up here. When she made up her mind to go home she remarked: "Well, yer see, honey, it's this here-away: In Missouri when it starts to rain it never quits, and when it clouds up the sun never shines, and when it does get clear you never see a cloud again, and when it gets hot it never turns cool, and when it once gets cold it never warms up no more."—Clinton (Mo.) Democrat.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Albany Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often it's the kidneys' fault.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. Ask your neighbor.

Many Albany women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. C. E. Spurlock, 108 6th Ave., Albany, says: "I had been suffering from stomach trouble for a year or more and it finally brought on kidney trouble. I got down real bad with my back and it got so bad I couldn't take a step across the floor. I had blind spells and my kidney didn't act right. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at Dillehay Brothers' Drug Store. I used them for about four days and felt much better. Continued use fixed me up. I haven't been bothered since."

Let the wife retain the use of her own name.

That neither should have to account for the time spent away from the other. That the husband must telephone for a dinner engagement exactly the same as other friends of the bride.

"Our marriage is the result of very definite theories concerning wedlock," said Miss Hurst. "We decide to sail into the sea of matrimony on a bark of our own designing. And it has not sprung a leak during the five years of high seas. We were married by a justice of the peace or a magistrate I forget which, at Lakewood, N. J. on May 5, 1915.

"Five years ago, when I met Jacques Danielson in musical circles, I found my youthful determination that marriage was not for me suddenly undermined. But my determination that marriage should never lessen my capacity for creative work or pull me down to a sedentary state of fat-mindedness, was not undermined."

Miss Hurst laughingly said she was born in St. Louis in 1889 and that her husband was born in Petrograd, then St. Petersburg, thirty-nine years ago, but came to America more than twenty years back. She said her husband was "quite in accord with the idea of the trial," and added:

"Being firmly of the opinion that nine out of ten of the alliance I saw about me were merely sordid endurance tests, overgrown with the

fungi of familiarity and contempt, convinced that too often the most sacred human relationship wears off like a piece of high sheens damask, and in a few months becomes as a breakfast cloth, stale with soft-boiled egg stains, I made certain resolutions concerning what my marriage should not be.

"First of all, I am anxious to emphasize that our marriage was neither the result of a fad nor an 'ism,' but simply the working out of a problem according to the highly specialized needs of two professional people.

"Fortunately, by grace, doubtless, of the very forces that drew us together, Mr. Danielson felt strongly in accord with me.

"We decided that our marriage should in no wise interfere with my work or my studies. My writing output has doubled since May, 1915.

"We decided to live separately, maintaining our individual studio apartments and meeting as per inclination, not duty.

"We decided that seven breakfasts a week opposite one another might prove irksome. Our average is two.

"We decided that invariably being invited to the same social functions might eventually resolve itself into the usual married wrangle or dragging one another to places we did not want to go. We have maintained our separate groups of friends.

"We decided that the antediluvian custom of a woman casting aside the name that had become so much a part of her personality as the color of her eyes had neither rhyme nor reason. I was born Fannie Hurst and I expect to die Fannie Hurst."

Miss Hurst's provision in case of a child blessing their happy union was set forth as follows:

"We decided that in the event of offspring the child should take the paternal name until reaching the age of discretion, when the decision would lie with him."

Neither of the persons involved is held to explanation of the way the hours are spent apart from the other, Miss Hurst continued:

"We decided that accounting for our time to one another would prove irksome, and for five years we have enjoyed our personal liberty precisely as we did before our marriage, using rather than abusing, the unusual privileges we grant one another.

"My husband telephones me for a dinner engagement, exactly the same as scores of my other friends. I have the same regard for his plans. We have different sets and circles of friends.

"Since nature so often merely springs a trap as, her means of inveigling two people into matrimony, we decided that we would try our marriage for a year and at the end of the period go quietly apart, should the venture prove itself a liability instead of an asset."

In regard to their future plans, now that they have solved the problem of two clever and successful people, usually regarded by the world as having "soul, temperament and strong wills that might clash," Miss Hurst said that they would continue their system instead of discarding it.

TWO BREAKFASTS TOGETHER WEEKLY IDEAL FOR MARITAL BLISS, SAYS FANNIE HURST

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 1. — Fannie Hurst, noted story writer, has formulated a set of rules for a happy married life that she is sure will prove workable. She speaks by the card, for she has been the wife of Jacques S. Danielson, pianist and composer, for five years; it became known recently.

Their wedding was followed by a marital understanding and the working out of a plan embodying novel details.

The couple meet only by appointment; they maintain separate studio apartments; they have averaged two breakfasts a week together since the ceremony, and when the pianist wishes to take his author-wife to the theatre for a motor trip he must, by terms of their understanding, either call by telephone or otherwise communicate his desire to Miss Hurst.

Here are some of the rules or suggestions Miss Hurst makes for the guidance of young couples:

Two breakfasts a week together are enough. Several might prove irksome to both parties.

If children bless the union let them bear the paternal name until they reach years of discretion, when they can make their own choice.

Let the wife retain the use of her own name.

Marriage should not interfere with the studies or pursuits of either party, therefore they must live separately, maintaining two apartments and meeting "per inclination, not duty," and having separate groups of friends.

That neither should have to account for the time spent away from the other. That the husband must telephone for a dinner engagement exactly the same as other friends of the bride.

"Our marriage is the result of very definite theories concerning wedlock," said Miss Hurst. "We decide to sail into the sea of matrimony on a bark of our own designing. And it has not sprung a leak during the five years of high seas. We were married by a justice of the peace or a magistrate I forget which, at Lakewood, N. J. on May 5, 1915.

"Five years ago, when I met Jacques Danielson in musical circles, I found my youthful determination that marriage was not for me suddenly undermined. But my determination that marriage should never lessen my capacity for creative work or pull me down to a sedentary state of fat-mindedness, was not undermined."

Miss Hurst laughingly said she was born in St. Louis in 1889 and that her husband was born in Petrograd, then St. Petersburg, thirty-nine years ago, but came to America more than twenty years back. She said her husband was "quite in accord with the idea of the trial," and added:

"Being firmly of the opinion that nine out of ten of the alliance I saw about me were merely sordid endurance tests, overgrown with the

fungi of familiarity and contempt, convinced that too often the most sacred human relationship wears off like a piece of high sheens damask, and in a few months becomes as a breakfast cloth, stale with soft-boiled egg stains, I made certain resolutions concerning what my marriage should not be.

NOVELTY OF DRAMATIC
THEME AND TYPES
OFFERS VISUAL TREAT

PRINCESS WEDNESDAY

Vivid in characterization and gripping in plot is "The Romance of Tarzan," which visualizes the concluding chapters of Edgar Rice Burroughs' great story, "Tarzan of the Apes," for patrons of the moving picture screen.

"The Romance of Tarzan" will be shown at the Princess theatre, beginning next Wednesday. It is in seven parts, and in addition to the remarkable novelty of its theme, offers the eye a rare treat with scenes of natural splendor, amid which wild animals and equally savage cannibals are shown in all their primitive strength and cruelty.

Elmo Lincoln again takes the part of Tarzan, the white ruler of this untamed wilderness, while Enid Markey has the role of Jane Porter, the beautiful daughter of the rich American scientist on an exploring expedition in the wilds of Africa, where she meets and loves Tarzan.

SHIRLEY MASON AND HER ELEPHANT MAN

DELITE THURSDAY

Manager Cagle of the Delite theatre gives notice of the coming of an attraction which will arouse instant interest. Miss Shirley Mason is now a full-fledged star in the William Fox galaxy, and will make her debut here in "Her Elephant Man," a picturization of Pearl Deles Bell's famous circus story. No screen personality is more winning than that of dainty Shirley Mason, and her appearance as a bareback rider, in all the atmosphere and the irresistible charm of the ring, promises keen enjoyment. Mrs. Bell spent a considerable part of a season with the big show getting atmosphere for her fascinating love story.

One of the big scenes shows a thrilling circus in operation, and for this Scott Dunlap, as director built at the West Coast studios the largest tent

Special Steels Eliminate Useless Weight

in a
MAXWELL

The reason the Maxwell engine is so responsive and yet thrifty, the reason the tires roll into big mileage is due largely to one fact: A Maxwell is burdened with no useless weight.

Special steels make this so. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae. No other steels in any car are just like them.

These special steels are of great strength and make possible the ideal Maxwell construction of brute strength with light weight.

Obviously, they are high priced metals. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built.

The wisdom of their use in the Maxwell becomes evident when one observes the rapid growth in public favor of this remarkable car.

Consider that nearly 400,000 of them are now in use; that 100,000 more will be added to this total in 1920.
